

Exciting News for the Game Dev Communities!

We are thrilled to announce our renewed collaboration with China's premier gaming event, ChinaJoy, to bring you an unparalleled gaming industry feast in 2024! This marks a further exploration of our partnership and a fresh attempt to spark a wave of international gaming cooperation!

ChinaJoy 2024 is set to kick off grandly from July 26th to 29th, 2024, at the Shanghai New International Expo Center. On this exciting stage, we will showcase the latest technologies and innovative achievements in the gaming industry through our collaboration in terms of media promotion and B2B commercial operation.

Additionally, WN plans to solely host the WN International Summit on 25th July 2024, bringing together developers, gaming enthusiasts, and industry experts from all over the world to share knowledge, network, and celebrate the gaming industry.

Get ready to witness the fusion of expertise and innovation as two industry giants come together to create an unforgettable experience for all gaming enthusiasts. Stay tuned for more updates on this grand event that promises to push the boundaries of gaming technology and creativity.

Mark your calendars and get ready to be part of this extraordinary partnership at the upcoming events!
